For these reasons, an affidavit of birth should meet these requirements:State the applicant's full name, place of birth, date of birth, and the full names of both of the applicant's parents.Include the full names of both parents of the applicant regardless of who writes the affidavit. There is an important exception - the affiant may not be submitting an application for permanent resident at the same time. If an adjustment of status applicant cannot produce an original or certified copy of a birth certificate, he or she will need to submit alternative evidence of birth. For example, use "May 10, 1980," instead of "5/1/80."List the first, middle and last name of each person whose name appears in the affidavit. Step 1 - Name of the parent or relative In the first paragraph of the document, include your name, birth date, place of birth, and place of current residence. Please note that immigration officers are evaluating the document in terms of its probative value and credibility, which is why the following information is necessary in the affidavit. (The applicant may also need a certificate of non-availability. Complete name, place and date of birth of an applicant (specifying full dates, months, and years in the format "December 11, 1950" instead of "12/11/50") Complete names of both parents of an applicant (when mentioning the mother's name, her current name should be used with the maiden name included in parenthesis) Statement of how that affiant swearing under oath the details of the person's birth knows them (for instance, the father might state that he was present at the moment of giving birth or if the affidavit is filled in by a person's aunt, she might say that she was present for the birth at the hospital) Complete names of all the people who are mentioned in the affidavit (name of the applicant, an individual signing the affidavit and both of the applicant's parents' names) The state and county where the affidavit was completed Some Aspects of Filing in the Affidavit of Birth Form One of the requirements for an affidavit is that details of a person's birth contained in it need to be truthful as otherwise, a person might face a penalty for perjury. It will let you create an affidavit of birth in minutes. The affiant does not necessarily have to be a US citizen. For a detailed explanation, see our article on submitting evidence of birth when no birth certificate is available.) In the absence of any secondary evidence such as church, school, hospital or medical records, two affidavits of birth may be submitted with Form I-485. A notary public should put the date when the affidavit was sworn and signed in front of them and their signature. This includes the applicant, the person signing the affidavit and both of the applicant's parents' names. Published: May 25, 2021 When an affidavit of birth is used for official purposes, for instance for USCIS or Department of State, there are certain requirements that should be followed strictly when crafting the document. Further, you need to state the name of your child. It might be completed by a parent, relative, or medical professional who was a witness to the birth if a birth certificate cannot be found. If you are using our template, you'll need to modify it to your specific situation. Please note that there is more than one way to write an affidavit. Your uncle or another family member may indicate they were present for the birth at the hospital.Write out dates with month, day and year. In the cases where relatives are not available, a friend or a neighbour can file an affidavit as well. The attorney-reviewed software guides you through the application and provides help to answer questions like this one. The next statement should be that on a certain date, you or your wife gave life to your child at the specified place. This article describes the requirements for an affidavit and includes a sample affidavit of birth.RECOMMENDED: I-485 Checklist for Family-Based ApplicationsBirth Affidavit RequirementsU.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) as well as the Department of State have strict requirements for affidavits of birth. It should state that you are the mother of the father of the person, their place of residence, and that you have personal knowledge of your child's birth. For example, your mother should state that she knows your date of birth because she gave birth to you. Please note that the petitioner or their beneficiaries cannot be affiants in an affidavit of birth. There is no standard form of the affidavit of birth which is why to save your time and efforts, use our document builder. Step 4 - Notary acknowledgement The last section in the affidavit of birth should be notary acknowledgement. Do not use initials even if this is your country's naming custom. Ensure that the names listed in the affidavit appear exactly as they do in the adjustment of status forms.State the mother's name as her current married name. Just answer several questions regarding the birth of a person, and get a ready-made document in no time. Create a Personalized Affidavit of Birth online in under 5 minutes! How to Fill Out an Affidavit of Birth? Although there are requirements as described above, various attorneys may have their own preferences on how to write the affidavit of birth.RECOMMENDED: Forms and Documents to Submit with Form I-485Source: USCIS An affidavit of birth is a document that includes a sworn statement about the birth of a person taking place and essential details about the birth such as date, time, place, and information about the parents. Then, there should be a statement: "...on oath state and declare as follows." Step 2 - Sworn statements The first statement in the affidavit of birth should be your relation to the person witnessing the birth of whom you are swearing about. For example, the parents of an applicant may not act as affiants if they too are submitting Form I-485 to adjust status.Did you know minor mistakes on your Form I-485 application can cause costly delays and rejections? Then, include your signature, date and printed name. For example, if an uncle executes an affidavit for you, his affidavit must list both of your parents' names.State how the writer knows of the applicant's birth. As the last statement, tell the name of the child's other parent. Close relatives such as aunt, uncle, siblings who were adults at the time of birth can be affiants, too. Her name before marriage (or maiden name) should follow in parenthesis. And personalized filing instructions help you to file your application today knowing that you did everything right! No credit card or sign up required to try it. Another requirement is that it should be created by a person who is a first-hand witness to an individual's birth, for instance a medical worker who helped with the delivery or one of the parents. Get started now >>Sample Affidavit of BirthIn this sample affidavit of birth, the affiant is the person who has first-hand knowledge of the birth and the applicant is the person submitting Form I-485. It's very common for parents to write affidavits for the applicant. Prepare your I-485 quickly and correctly with CitizenPath, or download your Affidavit of Birth as a PDF file Create a Personalized Affidavit of Birth online in under 5 minutes! Select a State Alabama Alaska Arizona Arkansas California Colorado Connecticut Delaware Florida Georgia Hawaii Idaho Illinois Indiana Iowa Kansas Kentucky Louisiana Maine Maryland Massachusetts Michigan Minnesota Mississippi Missouri Montana Nebraska Nevada New Hampshire New Jersey New Mexico New York North Carolina North Dakota Ohio Oklahoma Oregon Pennsylvania Rhode Island South Carolina South Dakota Tennessee Texas Utah Vermont Virginia Washington West Virginia Wisconsin Wyoming The situations where an affidavit of birth might be used differ: when a person has an incomplete birth record when a person has lost their birth certificate when a person is applying for a Green Card and need additional evidence of their birth when a person needs an additional proof of their birth for a job or other official reason when a person is applying for a new US passport and needs secondary citizenship evidence What Should Be Included In an Affidavit of Birth? For example, Jennifer Marie Williams (maiden name Eckerson).Who Can Write an AffidavitThe person who writes an affidavit is an "affiant." Affiants may be relatives of the applicant and do not have to be U.S. citizens. Step 3 - Signature and date The affidavit should end with stating that it was made and signed on solemn oath at a certain place and on a specified date. In order for an applicant to meet the burden of proof, the immigration officer will examine the birth affidavit for its probative value and credibility. These people should have direct knowledge of the birth and its circumstances and they should mention the reason why it is them who are submitting the affidavit instead of a person's parents. The main goal of the fillable affidavit form is to help prove an individual's citizenship or file an application for a new birth certificate. The form should also be signed, dated, and notarized before it gets legal force. Once filled out, the affidavit should be notarized to get legal force. However, any individuals who were alive at the time of the applicant's birth and were aware of the birth may act as the affiant.
